Accu-Trac® Flight

Quickly and reliably verify the number of cattle in your shipping pens, and whole yard without disrupting your daily operations.

Be certain before you ship

Routinely verifying the number of cattle in your shipping pens means you'll know with absolute certainty that your safe to ship head count and actual head count are aligned.

Quick turn-around

How long and how many cowboys would it take you to count all your shipping pens? The head count feature of Accu-Trac flight can provide you with a verified count, and high-resolution images in 1-2 hours.
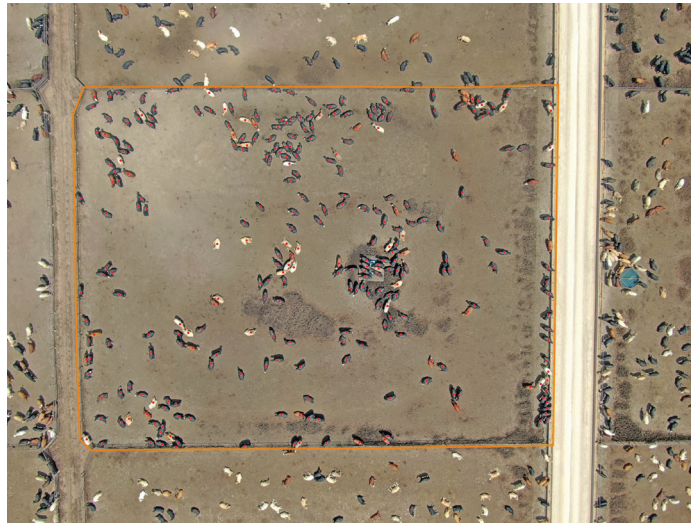

Easy to use

Crop Quest provides a customized flight path for each count, which handles the majority of the flight process.

Find mistakes, before they cost you

Utilizing Accu-Trac Flight for a full yard count can help you find errors on your operation. How much does it cost you a day if you are over-feeding or under-feeding a pen? Full yard counts give you a verified pen number, ensuring your day to day operations run as intended.

Fully Integrated

You'll have the power and convenience your accustomed to with full integration into Micro's Accu-Trac software.
